

THE REMOTE TRAINING OFFERS BY S&W TRAINING

As leading provider of highly intense one-on-one courses in 'German for international managers', we are certain that one-on-one courses are the most time- and cost-efficient method of learning German or expanding present German skills.

This is and remains our core business.

However, our clients often ask whether we are able to support their learning process after the intensive course or in between two intensive courses as well. Therefore, we have developed our flexible modular remote training concept.

All of our participants want to be able to communicate in German. We support the ability to communicate in German with VIDEOTRAIN.

Communication in a foreign language requires grammar and vocabulary as a mandatory basis.

We offer FLEXITRAIN to expand on knowledge of German grammar.

Our clients can develop their German vocabulary with the WORDS OF THE DAY.

For more of this, see the next page.

THE MODULES IN DETAIL

VIDEOTRAIN

We agree on dates for video lessons via Skype (or other platforms) with our participants (duration normally 45 to 90 minutes). Before each appointment we send preparatory materials that we then work through together.

Costs:	Single lesson (60 minutes)	85 €
	Ten lessons pack (600 minutes)	800 €

FLEXITRAIN

We send our participants a material package aligned with their previous knowledge per email. It contains information and exercises on relevant areas of grammar.

Participants may do the exercises whenever they have time or feel like it. They submit their answers to us.

We work through the answers and draw up feedback and a performance profile that indicates the detailed progress of participants, as well as their deficits and further objectives. This completes a cycle.

If desired, we send the material for the next cycle back right away.

Costs:	Single cycle	85 €
	Package price for ten cycles	800 €

WORDS OF THE DAY

Every day from Monday through Friday, we send our participants three PDF files with one important German word each.

Each of these PDF files contains

- the English and French translation
- grammar information (plural, conjugation, ...)
- typical example sentences with the respective word in context
- related words (e.g. verbs and adjectives for a noun)
- qualified information on the relevance of the respective word in general German and business German.

Participants may choose among the beginner's version and the advanced version. The WORDS OF THE DAY are selected accordingly. Switching from one version to the other is possible at any time.

Costs:	Annual subscription	375 €
--------	---------------------	-------